

School Psychologist – Junior School

Applications for this position close: 9.00am Monday 27 May 2019

Canberra Girls Grammar School (CGGS) is an independent non-selective Anglican school with an enrolment of approximately 1,400 students. The School has a strong reputation as a leader in the education of girls and boys in the Junior Primary years.

Our intent is to develop young students that are well-educated and who insist on living ethically and purposely. This is an opportunity to join a dedicated, supportive and innovative team in a School committed to excellence.

The Junior School Psychologist will work closely with staff, students and parents to promote student wellbeing in a school environment. A background in working in a school setting or with young people would be an advantage. The successful applicant will be a registered psychologist.

We are seeking applications for this part-time, ongoing position to commence as soon as possible. The successful applicant will be required to work from 8.30am to 4.30pm, four days per week during teacher term time.

Applicants will be required to provide a current Working With Vulnerable People check prior to commencing employment.

For employment at CGGS, a commitment to the ethos of an independent Anglican school is essential.

Applications

Further information, including the duty statement for the position can be found on the School's website www.cggs.act.edu.au

Applications can be made via the online application form on the Employment page of our website <https://employment.cggs.act.edu.au/>. Applications should include a current resume and short cover letter. Closing date for applications: 9.00am Monday 27 May 2019

Queries regarding this position should be directed via email to employment@cggs.act.edu.au. Please note that applications cannot be accepted via the employment email address.