

Primary Teacher

Applications for this position close: 9.00am, Monday 30 November 2020

- Full-time contract position
- Commitment to professional learning
- Professional and supportive environment

Who we are

Canberra Girls Grammar School (CGGS) is an independent non-selective Anglican school with an enrolment of approximately 1,400 students. The School has a strong reputation as a leader in the education of girls. In our Junior Primary years (ELC to Year 3) there is a commitment to the education of both boys and girls and a focus on the explicit teaching of foundation skills in literacy and numeracy.

Our intent is to develop young women that are well-educated and who insist on living ethically and purposely. This is an opportunity to join a dedicated, supportive and innovative team in a School committed to excellence.

The Role

The School is looking for a passionate and professional Primary teacher. Applications are sought for a full-time, non-ongoing position to commence 25 January 2021 to 10 December 2021, with the possibility of an extension. Knowledge of the International Baccalaureate (IB) Primary Years Programme (PYP) would be an advantage.

Appropriate academic qualifications and teacher training, as well as a sound understanding of current educational trends and learning styles are required.

All teaching staff members are expected to take part in the whole life of the School including participation in pastoral care and involvement in co-curricular School activities.

Eligibility for registration with the ACT Teacher Quality Institute which includes a Working with Vulnerable People check are conditions of employment. A current first aid certificate is desirable.
